2018 IID International Directory of Training Opportunities

The 2018 International Investigative Dermatology (IID) Meeting in Orlando, Florida, will once again offer a retreat for Trainees. This year's retreat will take place on Wednesday, May 16, in advance of the IID Meeting. This International Retreat will host 80 attendees who have been selected by the SID, JSID and ESDR Retreat Committees based on their demonstrated achievement, potential and interest in pursuing a career in research.

As a benefit of attending the IID Trainee Retreat, all retreat participants will receive a Directory of Training Opportunities. This publication (both digital & print) provides descriptions, application processes and relevant contact information for training opportunities open in dermatology departments, labs, and industry locations around the globe. This is an excellent opportunity to find outstanding researchers! We invite you to submit your opportunities today to be included in this year's publication.

CRITERIA FOR SUBMISSIONS

- Format -- MUST be in a Word document

EACH LISTING SHOULD INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING

- Name and location of lab
- Position available
- A brief description of the research conducted by the lab
- The nature of the available training position
- Deadline(s) to apply
